MORE FLOAT FINANCING was offered to Theresa Press, president of the Palm Springs Float Association, in the form of a $50 check from the Coachella Valley Contractors Association by association director Manny Ryan, left. Bill Rechten, float association secretary-treasurer, looks on as Mrs. Press accepts the check which will boost funds collected for financing of a Palm Springs float entry in the Jan. 1 Parade of Roses at Pasadena. Mrs. Press today expressed the hope that tonight's $50-a-plate Rose Float dinner will help erase the $1,000 deficit in funds for float financing. Tickets for the Ranch Club dinner, which features a star-studded entertainment roster, will be available at the door, Mrs. Press announced. She urged anyone who has not yet contributed to the fund to buy a $50 ticket to the dinner. (Gayle Photo)

Flaming U.S. Jet Crashes in Town In England Today

IPSWICH, England — (UPI) — One person was killed and several others injured today when a flaming U. S. Air Force jet fighter sliced between a group of houses and slammed into a garage at Kesgrave near here.

The pilot, 1st Lt. Charles L. Prescott, Santa Monica, Calif., ejected himself from the F100D Super Sabre and parachuted to safety before the crash. He was treated at a local hospital for shock and minor injuries.

TWO HOUSES AND the garage were destroyed by fire, and several other houses and a group of unoccupied trailers were damaged. A number of dogs were killed when debris plunged into their kennel area.

Prescott was on a training flight from Sutton Heath Air Base, which is shared by the U. S. Air Force and the Royal Air Force. The crash occurred five and a half miles from the base.

THE BODY OF a young woman was recovered from the wreckage of the garage struck by the plane. She was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Aggis, 28, Kesgrave, who worked at the garage as a clerk. A deep crater was left where the plane dove into the rear of the garage, and wreckage was strewn over a wide area. Police moved in to guard the scene of the crash.

Russia Issues 'Arms' Warning

BERLIN (UPI)—Moscow and the East German Communists rattled Soviet inter-continental rockets today with a new warning of war if the West refuses to bow to Communist demands to get out of Berlin.

Rolling Again

N.Y. Newspaper Strike Is Over

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The giant presses of nine major New York City dailies, stalled 20 days by the costliest strike in newspaper history, rolled once more today, sending forth sorely-missed papers for a news-famished public.

Newspapers began hitting the streets this morning, a few hours after the Mail and Deliverers Union Sunday night voted 2,091-537 to accept a new two-year contract.

THE READING public, which normally devours 5,500,000 weekly newspapers, and 8 million on Sunday, eagerly snapped up the papers as they reached the news stands. On all sides there were expressions of relief that the frustrating news blackout was over.

The two morning tabloids came out with jubilant headlines across their front pages.

"We're off and running again," the New York Daily News announced.

And the New York Mirror bannared: "Hello again!"

THE PROLONGED strike had not only gotten on people's nerves but had dealt a hard blow to the city's economy. It cost the publishing business an estimated 25

BALLOON BELIEVED DOWN IN ATLANTIC

NEW YORK (UPI) — The missing balloon Small World that left the Canary Islands Dec. 12 on a transatlantic aerial voyage today was believed to be down in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

The balloon, with a specially designed gondola that could be converted into a sailboat if forced down, was manned by a crew of three men and one woman on its attempted free flight across the Atlantic.

PETER ELSTOB, the promoter of the aerial voyage, said he believed the balloon was forced to land in the Atlantic during a heavy rainstorm.

"Judging by the balloon's speed up until the time of last radio contact on Dec. 18, I would estimate that it went down just about in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean," Elstob told United Press International today.

Elstob said he felt certain the crew would complete the crossing under sail.

"THE SPECIAL gondola was designed by Colin Mudie, one of the

Motorists Heed 'Get Scared' Warnings, Only 597 Killed

United Press International Motorist in closing hours of the Christmas holidays heeded "get scared" warnings and saved the Nation from what traffic experts predicted might be a record toll.

A United Press International count at 8:30 a.m. p.s.t. showed at least 597 persons killed in traffic mishaps during the holiday period between 6 p.m. Christmas Eve and midnight Sunday. Eight persons were killed in plane accidents, 96 in fires, and 100 from miscellaneous causes for an overall total of 801.

LABORER RETURNS TO PORTUGAL POOR MAN, BECOMES RICH

PORTO, Portugal (UPI)—Carlos Lima Garcia, 25, a poor laborer, came home from Canada for Christmas and quickly became a rich man.

Garcia, who barely scraped enough money together to emigrate to Canada and considered himself lucky to save enough for a trip home, bought a state lottery ticket when he arrived. The ticket won and paid back his money. He re-invested the fund in the final draw of the year and won $185,000 during the week-end.

The publishers also agreed to extend the territorial jurisdiction of the union beyond the present 50-mile radius from New York.

Cuban Rebels Claim New Successes

Cutting of Island Republic Predicted In Matter of Hours

HAVANA (UPI) — Government and rebel forces were locked in a bitter struggle across the "waist-band" of central Cuba today. The rebels claimed they would cut the island republic in two within "a matter of hours."

Rebel broadcasts intercepted in Havana said the insurgent forces were on the verge of complete control of the strategic central Cuban province of Las Villas despite heavy losses suffered during more than seven hours of attack by Cuban air force B26 bombers.

THE REBELS ALSO claimed capture of two towns and a sugar mill in Oriente Province, increasing their domination of the area surrounding the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.

A series of rebel broadcasts heard on short-wave frequencies claimed rebel successes in central Cuba. One broadcast said the mountain city of Trinidad and Cienfuegos on the south coast were totally surrounded by rebel forces and were expected to fall soon.

HOWEVER, THE rebels admitted that Cuban air force B-26 bombers inflicted "many" casualties on their forces in attacks near Santa Clara, capital of Las Villas province, and at Jatibonico, 56 miles to the southeast.

Government ground forces pressed their counter-attack against the rebels in the vicinity of Sancti Spiritus, an ancient city of 125,000, and in the Jatibonico area some 19 miles to the east. President Fulgencio Batista has made Las Villas a major battle area. Last Saturday he shook up the central Cuban army command and ordered 2,000 reinforcements to Las Villas.

The rebel radio in Oriente Province said its forces had seized the Francisco sugar mill on the border of Camaguey Province and the cities of Baracoa in northeast Oriente and Victoria de las Tunas in the central section.

Tijuana Police Use Live Ammo To Stop Rioting

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — Police used live ammunition and tear gas to break up a wild riot which erupted among an estimated 1,000 persons attending a political meeting.

Some 35 persons sought medical help after the melee in which more than 30 automobiles were damaged.

'Ticking Bandit'

$6,000 in Jewels, Watches Taken

Sheriff's deputies today hunted for the "ticking bandit" who took more than $6,000 worth of jewels and watches from the Country Club Estates home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Walker Boltz.

Deputy J. D. Purkiss said the burglar, apparently a fanatic for timepieces, took six wrist watches, a $4,000 diamond bracelet, a woman's watch and two men's rings from the Boltz home at 31-070 San Luis Rey.

FDR'S BODYGUARD RECALLS RIGORS OF 'TOUGHEST JOB'

By FRED C. WEIGEL

One of the toughest—and one of the most responsible—jobs in the United States today is the position of chief of the White House Secret Service, a position designed to guard and protect the President of the United States.

In Palm Springs during the past few weeks has been a man who for more than 10 years held that job. He is easy-going, smiling, Mike Reilly, who hovered near President Franklin D. Roosevelt, one of the toughest presidents to "keep an eye on" in the history of this country.

MANY WORDS have been printed about Reilly, including a serial about him in Saturday Evening Post, and a book which was titled "Reilly of the White House."

The incidents and facts concerning the guarding of America's presidents were brought to light in an interview at El Mirador Hotel this week.

Reilly started his career with the Secret Service, after a few years as head of the legal division of the Farm Credit Association in Washington, D. C., in 1935. He stepped into the job as chief of the service with the outbreak of World War II, the day after the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor. There were only three men who preceded Reilly in the job. Joseph W. Murphy, the first Secret Service chief protected Teddy Roosevelt, William Taft and Woodrow Wilson; Dick Jarvis, who served during the terms of Warren Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Franklin Roosevelt; and Edmund Starling, who worked as chief for part of the early term of Franklin Roosevelt.

PART OF THE job that is done by the chief of the Secret Service is the setting up of meetings with heads of foreign powers, and Reilly was responsible for arranging the meetings Roosevelt attended at Yalta, Casablanca and Tehran.

It was at Tehran that he had his hardest job in protecting Presi-

MIKE REILLY, left, former chief of the White House Secret Service, is shown above with Ray Ryan. dent Roosevelt. The Germans, hearing of the meeting, dropped 38 paratroopers into the foothills near Tehran. All 38 were trained assassins, and all of them were after Roosevelt and Churchill.

Six of the assassins were captured, but the balance of 32 continued to plague the secret service men the entire stay. Reilly lined the streets with military from the American Consulate to the meeting place, and then literally sneaked the Chief Executive down alleys and to the meeting while the troops acted as a diversion to the German agents. The rest of the Germans were captured a week after the President and Churchill left Tehran.

ANOTHER TRIP of the president—its success credited to America's newsmen—was the sudden inspection by the Chief Executive of military bases and aircraft plants a few days after the start of WWII. Newsmen in Washington knew about the trip, but did not leak it out until after President Roosevelt was safely back in Washington.

It was on this trip that something happened that, although having no meaning to Reilly at the time, was to be a major event in his life as protector of the president. While on the trip across toine Pinay disclosed that the government had received "large scale" backing from the central banks of Britain, West Germany, Belgium and Holland to protect the newly devalued franc against fresh speculation.

He said help also came from the Central Clearing House in Switzerland of the 17-nation European Monetary Agreement. But he did not say how much backing France's neighbors provided.

Pinay added that the United States also offered help, but "the funds made available by the above-mentioned banks did not make it necessary to accept the American proposals." He qualified this by saying that "for the time being, we don't need these offers."

THE CURRENCY reforms meant that foreign firms which have huge sums tied up in pounds sterling or other European currencies could now use them as they see fit and exchange them for U. S. and Canadian dollars. This was of particular importance to the United States and Canada, and first reaction was that trade should step up enormously.

The moves were foreshadowed Saturday when France devalued the franc.

FISHERMAN SAVES YOUTH IN RIVER WITH 20-YARD CAST

FLEETWOOD, England (UPI)—Fisherman James Stansfield, 52, saved 3-year-old Robert R. Reid from drowning Sunday by hooking the child's shirt with a 20-yard cast.

Stansfield saw Robert fall into the water from an embankment upstream. As the boy floated by face down, Stansfield cast out with his fishing rod and snared the child's shirt. He reeled the boy in and administered artificial respiration until Robert regained consciousness.

No Report Heard From Search Party

Located Saturday By Hiker on Way From Idyllwild

Searchers trekked through the rugged wilderness of Mt. San Jacinto today to recover the body of an unidentified man found in the high reaches of Tahquitz Canyon.

A team of sheriff's deputies and Mounted Police left the city early this morning to retrieve the body discovered by hikers Saturday afternoon.

THE SEARCH WAS organized when hiker Donald Liska reported that he found the partially decomposed corpse lying in a pool far above the second Tahquitz waterfall. Liska joined the search party today.

Led by Sheriff's Sgt. Von Hoffman, Deputy Wally Jenks and Mounted Police Lt. John Hollinger, the search team radioed that they were within two miles of the site pinpointed by Liska at mid-morning.

No further radio contact was established before noon.

ALTHOUGH THERE was no immediate clue as to the identity of the dead man, police at first explored the theory that the body might be that of Al Taylor, local camera shop proprietor who walked away from his home here several weeks ago.

However, police said there was little likelihood that the body was Taylor's because of the clothing found on the corpse.

Hoffman, who returned to Palm Springs late this morning, said he hopes the body can be brought out by helicopter. Otherwise, the searchers will be forced to pack it out overland.

THE BODY WAS found at about 2:30 p. m. Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Liska, of Culver City, who were spending a weekend at Idyllwild by hiking down through Tahquitz Canyon.

Liska said the body was lying face down in a shallow pool next to a canyon stream.

He told police that the body was apparently that of an adult male. It was clad in mouldy and faded clothing and hiking boots, he said.

LISKA AND HIS wife marked the site with a pile of stones on a small ridge above the pool and started to hike down to Palm Springs.

Nightfall interrupted their trek and they waited for moonlight before resuming their journey down the rugged slopes of the Mt. San Jacinto canyon.

They reached the police station here about 12:30 a. m. Sunday.

LISKA TOLD officers the body was located above the second Tahquitz falls, about a six-hour journey from the canyon entrance.

The squad of sheriff's deputies and Palm Springs Mounted Police officers started hiking in at about 5 a. m. today. They were to be relieved on the return trip by a second party that left here at 10 a. m.

Sgt. Hoffman returned to the police station at 9:30 a. m. to check the possibility of securing a helicopter from March Air Force Base to fly the body out.

House Members Fight For Offices

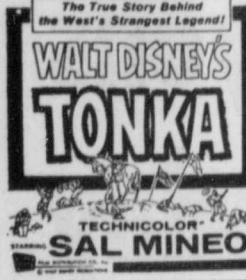

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — Four newly elected House members have no place to hang their hats. In a drawing for office assignments they came in last, and as of today there wasn't enough space to go around. Reps. John Brademas (D-Ind.), Seymour Halpern (R-N.Y.), Robert W. Kastenmeier (D-Wis.), and J. Edward Roush (D-Ind.) will be cared for eventually, but probably not before the frantic climax of what may turn out to be a hectic game of musical chairs.

THE GAME WILL be played—some members say fought might be a better word—in the two House office buildings in the first few days of January. Hundreds of moves are involved. Moving men will outrank and may outnumber congressmen as defeated and retired members move out, hold-over members grab choice spots, and 81 new members—including the four who so far don't know which way to turn—take whatever is left.

1958 WAS A BIG YEAR FOR U.S. FORCE IN EUROPE; LEBANON HIGHLIGHT

By JOE CALLCOTT
United Press International
FRANKFURT, Germany, (UPI) — Any year you look at it, 1958 was a big year for U. S. forces in Europe.

There was a troop movement to and, eventually, from Lebanon. And there was Pfc. Elvis Presley. But the event that personally touched the greatest number of soldiers and their families in Europe was the long-awaited end of military "funny money."

THE GAUDY military payment certificates, including paper nicks, dimes and quarters, went out of circulation on May 27. They had been in use since World War II and their conversion—into good old stateside greenbacks—involved more than 100 million dollars. The "funny money" was retained only in the United Kingdom, Libya, Morocco and Iceland. The script originally was introduced to halt a flourishing black market and inflation in occupied countries, but the black market continued.

IN THE LEBANON troop movement, about 15,000 U. S.

troops and airmen were sent into that country to safeguard the revolt-torn regime.

They included 5,000 Marines of the U. S. 6th Fleet, 1,600 airborne troops of the 24th Infantry Division from Augsburg, Germany, and paratroopers from Germany and France. Many were called away from their families on less than an hour's notice.

One of the year's most popular events was the inauguration of the American Forces Network in France. It already was a troop stand-by in Germany and Italy.

ON MAY 23, the first five limited range stations began beaming their "stateside" newscasts, comedy and drama programs and disc jockey shows to the France-based U. S. soldiers.

Then there was the European invasion by rock 'n' roll trooper Elvis Presley, who still is on assignment in Germany.

To his music-loving Army buddies, that was a bigger story than Lebanon.

THERE WERE TWO cases involving soldiers who reappeared after long absences, and one disappearance.

Sgt. William Brown touched off one of the Army's biggest search operations when he disappeared from Heidelberg, Germany, with his Japanese wife and two children. He turned up seven months later in Chicago.

Pvt. Wayne Powers, an all-but-forgotten World War II deserter, reappeared with a French wife and five children after 14 years of hiding. His wife, Yvette, was expecting a sixth child when Powers was sentenced to 10 years, but he was later set free.

PRESIDENT

the country, President Roosevelt told Reilly to "stay away from Hanford, Wash., I don't want to go anywhere near there."

REILLY COMPLIED and it was not until after the President's death that he learned that it was at Hanford where assembly of the atomic bomb—eventually dropped on Hiroshima—was taking place.

He knew little of the experimentation of the atomic bomb, but knew something big was in the making when in early 1953 when the President met with Dr. Vannevar Bush and Albert Einstein at the White House and called Vice President Henry Wallace and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, into the conference. The President asked the latter two men to approve an appropriation of $1,000,000 — without approval of Congress— and, although Reilly said he did not know how it was done, the money was obtained. That million dollars started the Manhattan Project and the birth of the atom bomb.

Shortly after this that Reilly was again surprised by a group of scientists who presented him with a new machine which could record the presence of radio-active material. The machine is now known as a Geiger counter. He was directed to use the machine wherever the president slept and if it clicked at so many decibels he was "to get the President out of the area fast."

IN HIS ENTIRE career as Chief of the White House Secret Service, Reilly, now an executive with the Ryan Oil Co., never kept a note or records. Everything he knew or was told, he had to remember.

Near the end of his career as Chief of the Secret Service, Reilly had an experience that he will never forget. On a bright sunny day at Warm Springs, Ga., Reilly had a plane waiting for him. He was to make a trip to San Francisco to arrange a trip for the President. Roosevelt was to address the United Nations.

He had talked with President Roosevelt early that morning, and heard Roosevelt express the belief that Russia was "double-crossing the U. S." They made plans for the trip to California. Then, before enplaning for California, Reilly went for a swim with Dr. Howard Bruen and some of the children who were at Warm Springs. The President went to continue sitting for his portrait. At 1:22 p.m., the President was stricken, and a call was delivered to the beach to Dr. Bruen and Reilly. The doctor ran to the house, followed by the Secret Service Chief, but two hours later the President was dead.

REILLY IMMEDIATELY ordered the doubling up of security on the then Vice President Harry Truman and Truman was rushed to the Capital and on to Blair House, where he was sworn into office.

But Reilly still had a job to do for his former boss. He made arrangements to have the body put on a train for Washington, D. C. Then he accompanied Mrs. Roosevelt to the Capital. Two weeks later, Mike Reilly ended his job. He resigned to take a commission in the U. S. Navy.

On his way to his assignment in California, he passed through a small town not far from Hanford, Wash., and stopped for gasoline. An excited service station attendant greeted him:

"Well, since they dropped the bomb I guess the war is over."

REILLY, WHO hadn't heard the newscasts discovered that an atomic bomb had been dropped on Hiroshima.

"And the bomb was made right here in Hanford," said the attendant.

Mike Reilly had spent 10 years in closest proximity to Franklin D. Roosevelt but had never learned of that Chief Executive's most important, far-reaching determination, the decision to utilize atomic power to bring World War II's totalitarian powers to their knees.

DEAR ABBY: Please forgive me for not signing my name but how can I impress upon the friends of my 14-year-old daughter that they cannot stay in her bedroom with the door locked (even if they are "only dancing"). Boys and girls (ages 14 and 15) congregate in her bedroom for hours with the record player going and they bolt the door on me. My daughter says if I can't trust her friends it is just too bad! Hicks. Line Climb To Top of San Jac

By WINFIELD LINE

Harold Hicks, purveyor of water to a thirsty desert, and myself had for years wanted to climb to the top of San Geronio in the winter.

This needs strong muscles, good lungs to stand the high elevation, and a slightly "touched" head to ever think of the idea. I had made a successful attempt on this mountain seven years ago and an unsuccessful attempt four years ago, being stopped by snow on the second try.

THE TRAIL IS fine if not blocked by too much snow. Three weeks ago, my wife and I flew our Navion at 12,000 feet and looked over the snow situation. Far too heavy a snow covered the trail.

A week ago, with Mrs. Line as pilot, Harold Hicks, Mary Palmer and I again flew over the top of San Geronio. Although snow still lay on the back-side of the mountain it was much less, and the time appeared feasible for a try.

WE LEFT PALM SPRINGS at 4 a.m. for Barton Flats, and at daybreak started up the trail. We were traveling light with camera, binoculars, rope, compass, altimeter and flashlight in case we came down after dark. A sandwich and a pint of water each served as lunch. Our trail followed a roaring stream for awhile, but at Dry Lake cut-off we left the water and started our heavy climb to the right.

The pines around the 8,500-foot level were stupendous, with bark more than half a foot thick. Grey squirrels and blue jays were our only companions. The deer herd had wisely drifted to lower levels. Our trail left the pines for awhile and crossed a grassy cineroglia clinging to the mountain side, then swung up through an open area of chinquapin and finally around into the pines again to the Dollar Lake cutoff. A branch trail drops down half a mile to Dollar Lake, frozen solid despite a month of warm weather.

IN THE ZIGZAG up to the Saddle we encountered our heaviest snow, and often found the trail buried for several hundred yards. The snow was hard and in some places dangerously slippery. We had rope to help each other over the worst slides.

At the Saddle, at about 10,000 feet elevation, the trail branched, one going down to Mill Creek Canyon, and the other up to San Geronio, now only three miles above us. In this last three-mile climb the elevation taxed our lungs and hearts. It also tends to make the legs rubbery, but we had toughened up a little on the Skyline Trail at Palm Springs, and on a climb high up Falls Creek Canyon.

Our camera was clicking steadily now. The day was clear and we could faintly make out the offshore islands in the Pacific. Great mushrooms of smoke rose from back of the Palomar Hills where a disastrous forest fire was burning many homes (eventually 100,000 acres of forest and brush lands).

THE PINES WERE beginning to show the results of the savage elements. Shorter and shorter they became, twisted into grotesque shapes by the wind and broken down by the heavy snows of winter. As we climbed upwards, our hearts pounding with the elevation, we found trees with boles two feet thick rising to a height of only six to ten feet, and by the time we reached the summit of Southern California's highest mountain—11,502 feet—the venerable giants crept along the ground like bushes only two or three feet high.

We finally reached the summit at 11:23 a.m. By pre-arrangement, Mrs. Zaddie Bunker, world-famed flying great-grandmother, and Dr. Grace Song Line, were to meet us at the top by airplane. As we looked off towards Palm Springs and the desert, we could see them circling upwards toward us. To the southeast, we could look the length of the Salton Sea. To the south on the horizon were the mountains of Old Mexico. Below were Banning, Beaumont, Hemet, Redlands, Riverside, Colton and San Bernardino.

AT EXACTLY 11:30 a.m. our two lady fliers circled over our heads. At first they didn't see us waving our red jackets, and they later reported they were concerned, fearing we might have had a mishap, but on a second time around they spotted us, and took pictures of us as we took pictures of them. It was quite a thrill for all four of us. It is interesting to note that the combined ages of the two fliers and the two hikers totaled 233 years. Mr. Hicks being the only "infant."

The ladies glided back to the desert. To us hikers left on the mountain top, there was the thrill of one of the grandest views we have ever seen, plus the inner satisfaction of having accomplished a strenuous task. We sat there on top in a 40-degree temperature for over an hour.

The trip down, as always, was an anti-climax. Our tired muscles allowed us to take an occasional nasty fall on the slippery trail, but there were no serious mishaps. In the late twilight we reached the end of the trail—after some 20 miles of vigorous hiking.

Bus Stopper
OAKLAND, Calif. — (UPI) — Passengers on Key System buses lose almost everything imaginable, but transit company officials said Sailor Gerry Sasser topped the list.

He lost a crocodile.

Sasser, stationed at Oak Knoll Navy hospital, said the foot-long baby reptile slipped out of his traveling case. The "croc" eluded capture on bus No. 39 for five days, but was finally collared when it emerged from beneath the driver's seat.

Two Great Locations to Serve You in Palm Springs

444 North Palm Canyon Drive and 940 South Palm Canyon Drive

Aquacentennial Queen to Visit Here Two Days

If saucy, blond-tressed Sharon Bigalke looks a little preoccupied as she rides the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Assn. float down Pasadena's Colorado Street on New Year's Day, the reason isn't difficult to ascertain.

The 19-year-old cutie, who is queen of Minneapolis' Aquacentennial celebration, is probably going to be looking right past her Tournament of Roses ride to a two-day vacation she'll spend in Palm Springs as the guest of the Village's Chamber of Commerce.

IT'S HER FIRST trip to California and the talented, University of Minnesota soph is excited over the prospect of the Jan. 1 ride, but even more elated over the idea of two days in this resort city.

Queen Sharon ought to be easy to pick out on the Florists' float. She's five-foot, five-inches, weighs 125, lapses 33-22-36, and—in case you've got color TV—has blue eyes in addition to the blond hair.

LOOK FOR HER. She'll be there on the float, mixed around with Miss Indianapolis, Baltimore's Queen of Flowers and Miss Tulsa. Picking her out ought to be fun if they'll leave the float on camera long enough.

After all is finished in Pasadena, the queen will make a beeline for Los Angeles' International Airport with her companion, Barbara Flanagan, women's editor for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune. She'll be in Palm Springs by late Friday afternoon and she'll stick around until Sunday afternoon.

During her stay, the Chamber plans to "show her the sights" hereabouts but details of that itinerary are as secret as the routing for Queen Elizabeth.

'High Gear' U.S. Economy Seen Early in 1959

American economy will get back into high gear early in 1959, the president of the Sherwin-Williams Co. said yesterday.

Arthur W. Seudel, chief executive of the paint manufacturing firm based in his prediction on "trends" within his own firm. Sales at Sherwin-Williams have increased 12½ per cent over the first quarter of the company's fiscal year.

Seudel said that research had played the most important role in the marked upswing at Sherwin-Williams.

"It gives us the reason to believe that 1959 will be the greatest year in Sherwin-Williams' 85-year history."

The local agency is located at 101 North Indian Avenue.

L.A. Realty Firm Opens Service Office in Village

The Fred Price Realty Company, of Hollywood and Los Angeles, has opened a new property and brokerage service office in Palm Springs.

Price, a prominent Los Angeles area Realtor and business broker for more than 17 years, is now operating an office for resort area service at 1542 North Palm Canyon Drive.

The company, one of the oldest in its home area, handles all types of business, residential and income property, lots, trades and exchanges. Price said.

Price said the agency will be operated by experienced brokers. He plans to visit the local office on week-ends.

Two Hearings Head Items For Planners

Two public hearings on proposed trailer parks head a list of seven desert items posted for the Tuesday meeting agenda of the Riverside County Planning Commission.

Hearings involve the application of Lewis I. McGeary, Jr., for a trailer park on the west side of Mountain View Road, near Dillon Road in Desert Hot Springs, and a park proposed by Lloyd Biddle for the Blythe area.

Other planning matters include tentative maps for Cal-Springs Estates between 19th Avenue and Dillon Road, Desert Hot Springs; Andreas Acres, south of 38th Avenue and one-quarter mile east of Vista Homes, north of 39th Avenue and west of Peterson Road, near Highway 111 in Thunderbird Country Club area.

Request from Security Title Insurance Company for a one-year time extension for filing a final Vista Dunes Mobile Park to establish a planted fence instead of Request from the new owner of maps on Silver Spur Ranch Unit 5, woven wire on property located at 78-990 Avenue 45.

Radar Beams Strong Enough To 'Cook' People

LONDON, (UPI) — New-type radio and radar transmitters being used by Britain's air force send out beams powerful enough to "cook" or seriously maim people or animals as much as half a mile away, a radio expert said today.

Dr. Douglas Shinn, one of a team of researchers working on the super-powerful transmitters, sounded the warning in an article in the science magazine "Nature." He said the beams could cause internal injuries by heating the body at distances of up to half a mile.

The air force hurriedly assured Britons that transmitters sending out the powerful beams as part of a defense radar network would be located at high points so the beams cannot hit the ground.

It said the stations would be surrounded by high wire security fences so no unauthorized persons or stray animals could get within a half-mile of them.

San Francisco Fire Destroys Amusement Park

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A four alarm blaze destroyed $250,000 worth of merry-go-round horses and other amusement equipment Friday night at San Francisco's famous Playland-at-the-Beach.

The spectacular fire, shooting flames high over the beach amidst gusts of rain, wrecked a three-story warehouse in which the play equipment was stored. Total loss, including the building, was estimated by its owner at $400,000.

Forty pieces of equipment and 150 firemen were summoned to the scene and battled more than an hour to control the fire. Three firemen were slightly injured. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Thermal Freight Agency to Close

Discontinuance of the freight agency at Thermal will become effective Jan. 15, according to a notice filed by Southern Pacific Company with the Public Utilities Commission of which the Board of Supervisors was made cognizant this week.

According to the notice, after closing of the agency the station will be operated on a non-agency basis at which freight in any quantity, carload or less, will be handled. Service requirements of shippers will be handled through the Indio railroad station where a toll-free telephone service will be available. There will be no change in less than carload shipments which are presently handled by truck common carrier.

The supervisors referred the notice to county counsel.

Riversider Buys Salton Sea Lot

PALM DESERT — Mrs. Mary Smith of Riverside has purchased a lot at the Salton Sea Shores from Sammy Dixon, new sales associate of the Gagnon Co.

According to Del Gagnon, owner-manager of the company, Mrs. Smith will return to the desert shortly after the first of the year to begin construction of a new beach home.

Federal, state and local governments in the U.S. spent a total of 124 billion dollars in fiscal 1957, an increase of nearly 11 billion dollars over 1956, according to Tax Foundation, Inc.

An Ensemble of Pontius Pilates

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In an investigator's private office, from which the secretary had been purposefully dismissed, I became allegedly the fourth living person to hear a spy story which, if true, should be a front page story in newspapers across the land.

Sworn to secrecy, the reporter does the best he can to make some bricks without straw. The secrecy is necessary because lives are at stake and also sources of invaluable information which concerns the Communist conspiracy against this country. Since my initial interview I have talked with some persons who are already part of the story, and they have discussed it with grave charges but guarded details.

POVL BANG-JENSEN, 49-year-old Danish diplomat, says that he still hopes to find out—and to tell the world—exactly why he was fired from his post on the United Nations staff. The public knows only the shadowy outline of Bang-Jensen's experience.

Shortly after the Hungarian revolt of 1956 was put down with Soviet tanks, Bang-Jensen was made deputy secretary of a UN committee to investigate the Hungarian tragedy. He obtained anti-Soviet testimony from 81 Hungarian freedom fighters to whom he promised to keep their names forever secret.

Many months later, Bang-Jensen was fired by UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld because promises given the Hungarian witnesses were "in excess of your authority."

BANG-JENSEN to Hammarskjöld's south orized

Skjold . . . tell me what you maintain I was authorized to promise the witnesses."

From Hammarskjöld and the rest of the UN officialdom, including the American representation: No further comment or explanation beyond double talk. The UN, although situated in the U. S., is independent territory. Hence, Bang-Jensen's treatment by the UN tribunal and officialdom would seemingly be no affair of ours—except that Americans who work for the UN are still Americans and not stateless immunities.

IT IS A FACT of record that Bang-Jensen's burn's rush was given a hand by Andrew Cordier, Hammarskjöld's Executive Assistant, and by our Deputy Representative, James Wadsworth, who has been the State Department's official hand-washer in the affair. I asked Bang-Jensen what he thought of the American participation in his ouster. He told me:

"I cannot make concrete charges. You never know people's motives. But some Americans in the Secretariat have acted in a most odd manner and have prevented a investigation concerning evidence of serious irregularities which have taken place."

YOU SEE: no charges . . . no names . . . no detailed story. But I also went to Bang-Jensen's former attorney, Judge Robert Morris, for five years counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, author of the book, "No Wonder We Are Losing," a personal account of his anti-Communist investigation covering some 15 years. Morris has been to the bottom of the Bang-Jensen case. He has followed its ramifications and radiations as only an expert can. Morris told me:

"This is the biggest espionage case of all. Its issue makes it bigger than the Alger Hiss case. For the gravamen of this case is that Soviet espionage may exist within the UN Secretariat and within the foreign intelligence agencies of the United States."

THIS IS ABOUT as serious a "gravamen" meaning: substance of the case) as could possibly be. So, after talking with Morris, I asked Bang-Jensen if he considered that espionage could exist among the Americans on the UN staff.

If Bang-Jensen, with his insider's knowledge of the UN and of the Hungarian investigation, has such feelings, no wonder the Soviet influences are concentrated on his dismissal and his disgrace.

I ASKED THE Danish Ambassador in Washington whether his country was still interested in Bang-Jensen's defense. "He is not an employee of ours," the Ambassador told me. "He is an employee of the UN." Quite evidently, the United States also feels this way about its own citizens in UN hire. Altogether, it is a full chorus line of hand-washing Pontius Pilates such as have seldom made the world stage.

Is there a solution? Judge Morris said this:

"We must get somebody in the American government to be concerned about it."

At this writing, the American government seems singularly and shamefully unconcerned

—Holmes Alexander

Things to Watch and Watch for in 1959

"In watching the news always wait and watch for the sacrament of confirmation"—Voltaire. In spite of the constant world-crisis in the headlines . . . and against a background of 27 years of covering some of these headlines around the world . . . it is our opinion that the prospects for world betterment and the containment of Communism are better today than at any time in recent years.

Our optimism is due to a large extent by the internal crisis inside Russia, which was apparent to us on our last trip there, and is becoming more and more acute as the news leaks out from thousands of escapees from the Iron Curtain.

THE ANTI-STALINIST clique of Khrushchev is in serious trouble with the pro-Stalinist clique of Molotov, Malenkov . . . as well as the all-powerful segment of the Russian Army. Under Marshal Zhukov from 1953 to 1957 the Army had gotten rid of the Communist political commissars. But since Zhukov was retired in the Fall of '57, the Red commissars are back in the same old stand against strong Army opposition.

Our basis for optimism is also due to the appreciable reduction of tensions in the explosive areas of Formosa and the Middle East. It is our opinion that serious trouble at home has forced both Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung to refrain from any show-downs abroad. Formosa foreign policy shifts have also helped to reduce the crisis in the area.

FOR EXAMPLE, President Chiang Kai-shek's renunciation of his previously impending attack against the Chinese Communist mainland is a tip-off that for the time being the Formosa crisis has been neutralized and will gradually fade into the same old stalemate it has been in for the past nine years. The immediate threat of war has been removed from the Formosa Strait. This was not true when the bombing of Quemoy began. The Chinese Reds got what they wanted . . . a commitment from Free China that they would not attack. The strengthening of the U. S.-Free China alliance makes it less likely that the Communists would attack now.

IT IS NOW APPARENT that Russia and China refused to risk war with the U. S. over Formosa, even though our Allies were not committed to help us. If this is a reasonable deduction, then Russia is not likely to risk war with the U. S. over Berlin, where all of our Allies are committed to help us defend it.

Khrushchev's sword - rattling over Germany, like his threats over Lebanon, appear as so much propaganda. He threatened war if we landed in Lebanon . . . and then backed down after we did. He threatened war if we conveyed supplies to Quemoy . . . then backed down when we did. He threatened war in Egypt were attacked by Britain, Israel and France . . . and then backed down when they did.

WAR IN 1959 in our opinion does not appear on the Soviet agenda for a number of reasons, principally because the Russian Army is not anxious to go to war for the Communists, unless attacked . . . and because Russian Army strategy indicates its respect for the military superiority of the United States.

The lessening of war tension at the beginning of the New Year is also due to the shift in Soviet tactics, from a military to an economic challenge. Watch Russia try to demoralize world prices by selling at a loss. This would be a strong weapon in the hands of Russia . . . if she could afford such losses. The fact is she cannot.

ON OUR LAST assignment in Russia we heard Premier Khrushchev announce to the Russian people in the Stalingrad square the government's inability to redeem $60 billion of Russian bonds, or the interest due. This is an outright repudiation of a government's obligation to its people.

This is the fourth time the Russian government, both under Stalin and Khrushchev, has repudiated its bonded debt to its citizens. By exploiting their own people, as well as the satellites, Russia is able to make ridiculous trade-concessions in an abortive attempt to infiltrate certain areas of the world.

COMMUNIST influence around the world is on the way down, except in areas where Red supported politicians cannot exist without it. This is true in Egypt, where Nasser uses Israel as an excuse for Soviet aid. It is true in Indonesia, where Sukarno's survival depends on Communist support. It is true in North Korea, Vietnam, and the rest of the satellite world, where Russia is in such control that any opposition would be annihilated by the firing squad.

The Communist shelling in France, Berlin, Italy in recent months is proof of the declining power of Communism in the most strategic areas of its greatest challenge.

Watch for General de Gaulle President of France, to put French prestige and influence back on the map. Single handed he routed the Reds in the French Parliament and put the moderate conservatives in power. For the first time in years France is under the control of only four political parties, not 14 as in the past, and the Communists are not among them. Watch France move the West out of the old drums in Europe.

WATCH RED CHINA and Russian relations deteriorate when Mao Tse-tung steps down to pacify the Chinese Army and General Chu Teh. This shake-up means, among other things, that the Chinese Army is gaining power, just as the Russian Army has been gaining power for years. With the Chinese Communist Army also gaining power, the Russian Army bears watching. The trend of military leadership is sweeping our world like wild fire. Inside Communist countries it could be the greatest blessing for the millions of enslaved peoples.

Watch for an anti-Red military revolt in Indonesia against Sukarno, just as the military revolts in Burma, Pakistan, in recent weeks. If it succeeds, as it appears likely, the West will gain much of the ground it lost under pro-Communist Sukarno.

WATCH PRO-U. S. Premier Kishi take Japan farther and farther from Communist China.

Watch the reaction of the Communist defeat in Berlin on Khrushchev. It could topple him right out of the Kremlin. Watch the army leadership inside the satellites challenge the Communist Party. A few more U. S. successful scientific firsts, like our nuclear submarines and 4½ ton satellites now in orbit, could break the Communist world wide open—during the early months of 1959.—John Morley.

Quotes from the News

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Benjamin Karpman, chief psychotherapist at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, on the repression of sexual drives in the United States: "Our society is suffering from an overwhelmingly impossible repression of sex. We still don't know how to raise children sexually. Sexual repression is the root of a great deal of evil."

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) — James Bone, a member of the council at Lamlash on Arran Island, on the plans of Stewart

Huston of Coatesville, Pa., to change the name of a tiny Scottish island he owns:

"Surely an American can't wipe out one of the most famous spots on the Clyde with one wave of his hand."

To be a statistic
There's no way quicker,
Than to take to the road
While full of liquor.

People are always starting some kind of service bureau like furnishing Santa Claus for stores and so on, escorts, baby sitters, hand-clappers for shows, things like that.

Somebody should start a new one — drivers for New Year's Eve parties. Maybe there is such a service already but it would be a nice idea. Then you wouldn't hear that:

"Don't give him any more. He's got to drive."

TWO AIR POLLUTION experts were down in Coachella Valley the other day sniffing and measuring.

What most people thought was just haze, perhaps from that big Calistrano fire, they said was smog, real smog which had drifted down the pass from Los Angeles picking up reinforcements on the way at Fontana and Colton.

People at Indio said it was thick enough to blot out San Geronio and the Santa Rosas.

FORTUNATELY, the haze or smog, followed Highway 99 instead of turning off down Highway 111.

But now we can come back at Los Angeles.

Everytime they set a new heat record there, the metropolitan press always blames it on "hot air from the desert."

We can blame the smog, if it is smog, on Los Angeles.

MAYOR POULSON of Los Angeles recently made headlines when he urged auto manufacturers to lay off the big cars for a while. Even advocated not buying the big ones. Said they were responsible for the Los Angeles smog.

In the meantime, the Metropolitan Transit Authority is trying to eliminate more rail lines in favor of more busses.

If they had not torn up all of the electric lines, there might be much less smog.

Besides, the trolley cars stayed put, they couldn't swerve in front of you or pull out from the curb just as you were passing. More comfortable, too.

COMES A LETTER telling me to keep on yammering for more traffic signals in town and for that third crossing over Tahquitz channel.

"Something has to be done soon or we'll choke on our own trails," the gentleman wrote.

"How long are we going to have to wait for a light at the Y? That intersection is growing more difficult daily."

"While on the subject, another good spot for signals is the intersection of Indian Avenue and Ramon Road."

"Some timid drivers are going far out of their way to avoid that spot."

NOW TO CLOSE on a more cheerful note.

From La Mesa, just east of San Diego, comes word of understanding city officials. The new 1959 dog licenses being issued at the city hall there, are in the shape of a fire hydrant.

A GRAY and dripping day. A day for sober reflection. For mending our toys and our wayward ways. Even the Christmas tree is beginning to shed.

Well, we must put the last year in a nutshell. And believe me, that is where it belongs. A daffy year, if you ask me.

IN LONDON, Maurice Martin, green grocer (blimey), was fined one quid ($2.80) for ignoring the constable's signal to stop.

"Marriage and motoring don't mix," said Maurice to the magistrate.

"For 30 years, Fannie—that's the missus—has been driving from the back seat. As soon as we start to move, she's off 'Watch out. Be careful. Mind that cyclist.'"

After 30 years of this, Maurice turned around to give Fannie a piece of his mind and drove through the signal.

THE IMPORTANT THING here, I think, is that it took Maurice 30 years to get around to answering back.

Let's see if we can't get more progress in the coming year people. The next time Madame lets out a whimper from the back seat, clobber her with a ball bat.

NEWS FROM Amsterdam. The ever-loving husband of Mrs. Klaas Meijer left home. He said Mrs. Meijer kept her house in a state of disorder.

Not so, said Mrs. Meijer. "I keep the sewing in the laundry hamper. The sugar is in the coffee can. The coffee is in the cookie jar. The cookies are in the refrigerator."

"It is only when that dumkopf puts the coffee in the coffee can that my system breaks down."

I think I see what you mean, Mrs. Meijer. Indeed, I do.

IN 1958 the Defense Department of the United States of America eliminated 88 kinds of men's drawers in the Armed Services. Thus saving you taxpayers a whopping amount of money. So stop complaining, please.

EARL WILSON:

Best Gags of '58

NEW YORK — For Christmas and New Year's, I give you the Best Gags of 1958 — all about Bernard Goldfine, Brigitte Bardot, Ike's golf, Florida's weather, Eddie and Debbie and Liz, Junior Trujillo's gift packages (foreign cars), Maria Callas, and that other singer Jerry Lee Lewis, to whom England said, "Yankee, Go Home!"

We can laugh, now that the recession's over, about Herb Shriner claiming, "There really isn't any unemployment — that's just a rumor circulated by a lot of people out of work."

"And now," several comedians said from night club floors, "a message from our President: 'FORE!' . . . As Toots Shor peddled his restaurant site, becoming a millionaire, he recalled how fellow tycoon Jackie Gleason once asked him for a loan of $2,000. Toots asked what he wanted it for, and Jackie snorted: 'Don't get so nosy, or I won't take it.' Spoofer Allen and De Wood defined the Eddie Fisher Cha Cha Cha: 'You take two steps and then change partners.' . . . Steve Allen, talking to Bob Hope, said he was going to Europe and Bob said: 'Don't miss Paris.' Steve said he wouldn't; his wife Jayne Meadows, was going with him. Bob groaned: 'You'll miss it.' Perry Como's admirers made up one about Perry's audience with the Pope, claiming the Pope said, 'Look here, Perry, I'm supposed to be Mr. Nice Guy.' The risqué attracted attention. An American exclaimed to a Frenchman that the best-seller 'Lolita,' was 'about a middle-aged man in love with a 12-year-old.' The Frenchman yawned: 'A 12-year-old what?' And a Broadway producer, moaning over the critics' blast at his flop show, waited to one critic: 'Couldn't you have at least said it was dirty?'

When shapely Liz Taylor was at Grossinger's on that fateful Labor Day weekend with Eddie Fisher, she got a blister on her heel and a doctor was summoned. 'What! Elizabeth Taylor has a blister on her heel!' he exclaimed. 'I'll get my stethoscope and be right over!'

Jerry Lee Lewis' young cousin, Carl McEvoy, also appeared on the singing scene, the same hair, same eyes and same voice. 'Are you married to a 13-year-old girl too?' he was asked. 'No,' he answered indignantly. 'Separated!'

Sugar Ray Robinson became a singer. Nat (King) Cole was asked 'Who told Ray he could sing?' Nat explained: 'He did.' . . . Paul Gilbert said an airline stewardess is a beautiful girl who asks, 'What can I do for you,' and then straps you in. . . . Comic Dick Shawn did a takeoff on the rock-and-rollers, and impersonated the leader as saying: 'The newspapers say we're sick. Oh, we know what the papers are saying about us. We got people reading them to us.'

The "take me to your leader" gag got monotonous. Meeting Brigitte Bardot, one Martian said, 'Take me to your leader later.'

Eddie Hanley told of the Martian finding himself in a Broadway shooting gallery where he saw a pin-ball machine all lighted up. The Martian inquired, 'What is a nice girl like you doing in a place like this?'

Hollywood Producer Joe Pasternak amused us mightily. He told one actor, 'Take this script home and mail it over.'

Joe's teenage son Mike worked as a houseboy on the French Riviera to pay for a motorbike. While serving drinks at a party, he spotted his own mother among the guests. Rushing over, he spluttered, 'Would you like a drink, Ma'am — Mon!'

My son Slugger and I wrote a song, evoking a letter of protest from Composer Harry Ruby, who screamed: 'How come that you, who have made such a success in your own line of work, suddenly decide to take bread out of the mouths of men like Irving Berlin, Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein and Cole Porter?'

MIKE CONNOLLY: Post-Prem Party

HOLLYWOOD — Shirley MacLaine walks straight out of the pages of James Jones' tough-talking "Some Came Running" into the role of the tramp who hooks the hero, Frank Sinatra, into marrying her.

At the post-prem party at Dino's Lodge I asked Sinatra and his sidekick in the movie, Dean Martin, how they brought themselves to call Shirley a "pig" throughout the picture, as required by the script. Frankie answered for both of them: 'She's such a sweet kid, it wasn't easy!' But Shirley butted in with this: 'I am too a pig—I was so nervous about coming to the premiere tonight I ate three dinners!'

SOL SIEGEL, who produced the picture, had this sly greeting for the guests at Dino's including the usual smattering of "professionals" who always side up to a producer at a prem and tell him his picture is great, even if it's a stinker: 'I'm glad to be here. Most of you are honest. I know you are because you told me you liked the picture!'

While working out the property settlement, Cary Grant has also been acting as "agent" for his soon-to-be-ex-wife, Betsy Drake, recommending her for parts in pictures. If she's working—maybe she won't require so much alimony?

MARIE WILSON'S definition of an adult science-fiction movie: 'That's one where the actress who plays the female monster from outer space is the producer's girl friend.'

Speaking of Marie, watch for some Wilson-type champagne bubbles on Ralph Edwards' 'This Is Your Life on New Year's Eve. And so live your life, that when the time comes—you don't embarrass Ralph Edwards!'

Fox invited a contingent of school teachers from Laguna Beach and Arcadia to attend a special studio screening of Ingrid Bergman's "The Inn of Sixth Happiness." After the screening the smog was so thick the schoolmarm couldn't drive home. They bedded down in the star's dressing rooms for the night—and that's where Bing Crosby, Debbie Reynolds, Bob Wagner and the other stars working at Fox found them next morning!

EVERYTHING WAS rolling along fine for the lovely Italian singer, Anna Maria Alberghetti, and her fiancé, Buddy Bregman, until Gloria Haley Bregman Radovich's attorney subpoenaed both of them (also Anne Francis, Buddy's ex-girl friend) to testify in connection with Gloria's child support and back alimony lawsuit against Buddy—whereupon Miss Alberghetti staged a scene that was right out of the third act of "Lucia di Lammermoor."

Movie producer tearing up a temperamental star's contract: "Yes, Virginia, there IS a sanity clause!"

CHANNEL CHATTER—MGM-TV version of "Scaramouche," which first starred the silent screen's Ramon Novarro, will have Cesare Danova swashbuckling in Ramon's old spot.

Hedy Lamarr scrambled a guest on Oscar Levant's local show because of "mental depression"—over her son's recent accident. Incidentally, Hedy's ex-husband, Ted Sturfer, is engaged to Silvana de Rosier, the Roman sculptress.

Add Jingle-Bells-Wedding-Bells Veronica Lakes' daughter, Diane and teleproducer Victor Wolfson's son, Gene.

JUDITH ANDERSON bypassed several big TV shows to star in "Comes the Day" on Broadway, having told several friends the only reason she was doing the show was because she needed the dough for fertilizer for her ranch in Carpinteria, Calif. The show flopped, Cain's Warehouse inherited the scenery, and Judy's chagrined stems from the fact that she never did get that wherewithal for her mountain greenery!

Jack Mahoney, the star of Desilu's new Nancy Derringer series, fumed because his leading lady, Frances Bergen, spent so much time applying her make-up. He tacked his sign on the door of his co-star's dressing room: "Leading Lady in This Series Is Now Limited to Four Hours ONLY for Makeup Every Day!"

Frances (who is Edgar Bergen's better-half) got back at Jack by sticking this on his dressing room door: "Mahoney's Co-Workers Are Convinced He Needs at Least Four Hours for Year's Hangover!"

Makeup, Especially with New JACK PAAR and the crew of his Tonight show are terrified, I'm old, that they may have to take tuberculosis tests and treatment for a year. And all because, according to a medico's report, one of Jack's guest stars on his recent Hollywood telecasts, has since died, reportedly of TB. The guest was Tim Moore, "Kingfish" of The Amos and Andy Show.

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. of the 77 Sunset Strip series sent his spouse, Stephanie, to scout around for a "big house," a tough order in these days of compact dwellings. But Stephanie found one after a half-day search—with seven fireplaces! And here it's taken me a year to find a pair of tongs.

ZIV PRODUCTIONS bagged Bill Lundigan out of his Chrysler commercial corner to star in the pilot of a new science-fiction series, Moon Probe.

Bob Rockwell asked another actor, "How's things?" The actor replied, "Well, I haven't had a job for six months, Bob—but at least it's STEADY!"

Community Concert Association Plans Membership Drive

Final plans and arrangements have been made for the kick-off dinner that will launch ticket-selling for the Palm Springs Community Concert Association on January 5.

The dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., in the Racquet Club here.

J. Bradley Davis, president of the association, said that Mrs. Arnold Rumwell, chairman for the dinner, has notified him that all arrangements have been completed for the event. John Bauer, Southern California representative for the national concert organization, will be featured speaker at the dinner and will explain to members of the Palm Springs unit the benefits to be derived from an all-out membership campaign here.

Community Concerts strives to bring the best in classical music to American communities, Bauer said, and added that Palm Springs would profit culturally from the concert.

A one-week campaign, under the direction of Mrs. Alex S. Hammond, will be launched in conjunction with the dinner. The campaign will attempt to sell the entire seating of the 1,100-seat Palm Springs High School Auditorium for a series of "at least three" concerts, Davis said. Mrs. Hammond is being aided in the membership drive by Mmes. Adele Calderhead, William Lux, Donald Marx and Culver Nichols.

Aiding Mrs. Rumwell in dinner planning is Mrs. William Powell. Officials of the organization, in addition to Davis, are Rev. James H. Blackstone, Jr., Mmes. Alex S. Hammond and Culver Nichols and Herman Ranes and Stanley Rosin, vice presidents; Fred G. Ingram, treasurer; Mrs. Roger Williams, secretary, and Mrs. Donald Marx, correspondent.

Alex S. Hammond is concert chairman and Herman Ranes is publicity chairman of the concert group.

New Villagers Entertain on Christmas Day

Red holly berries and red tapers in silver candelabra made an attractive centerpiece for the holiday buffet table at the Sunrise Road home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Gushurst when they entertained for a few friends Christmas afternoon.

Among a few of the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Kremer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Peg and Kater Rashall, Al Castino of Utica, New York, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Breulheide of Pasadena. The Wilsons are new Smoke Tree residents having moved here from La Jolla.

The Gushursts moved out from Minneapolis a month ago and bought a home on Riverside Drive. They have as their houseguests Mrs. Gushurst's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Tighe and son, Shannon, of Chicago.

PLANNING THE KICK-OFF dinner for the Palm Springs Community Concert Association membership drive—scheduled for January 5-11—are Mrs. Roger Williams and J. Bradley Davis, secretary and president of the organization. The membership drive will be formally launched at the dinner, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., in the Racquet Club here. (Anderson Photo).

Jaycees Hold Christmas Party

Holiday festivities were in high gear Saturday evening at the Huddle-Springs when more than 100 Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce members and their guests gathered to celebrate their annual Christmas party.

Featured at the lavish buffet table, which was beautifully decorated with Yuletide decorations, was an assortment of salads, cold meats, including a whole baked salmon, and a host of other delectables. Mrs. Frank Allen, chairman for the gala affair was assisted by Mrs. Maurice Smith and Mrs. J. R. Wahlberg.

A few of the many attending and dancing later on in the evening to the music of the Guadalajara Boys were Messrs. and Mmes. Frank Allen, Eugene Bergeron, James Bigley, Henry Cleary, Keith Conway, Richard DeLong, Dave Fisher, Howard Haddock, Ross Henry, Rick Harrison, Robert Hillstrand, Kenneth Jackson, Lee Muhleke, Nick Mutascio, Hy Ranes, James Schlecht, Allan Smith, Maurice Smith, J. R. Wahlberg, Donald Wexler, William Bronstein, Herb Esbitz, William Foster, Ralph Thomas, William Fadden, Dr. and Mrs. Chet Baldwin and Wayne Huffman. Also Messrs. James Hollowell, Robert Marx, Donald Levy, Jim DiPompei, Jay Cody, their guests and many, many more.

Hicks Family Holds Annual Holiday Party

The annual holiday open house at the Harold Hicks home on Camino Norte was a gala affair with around 100 guests attending.

At home to spend the holidays and welcome the guests were Gail Hicks who is down from Los Angeles; Jean Hicks, who is home from San Diego State College and her fiancé, Kenneth Miller, who flew in from Philadelphia where he attends medical school the two are planning on a June wedding; Jim Hicks from Pensacola, where he is stationed with the United States Navy Air Force, and Denny Hicks who attends Palm Springs High School.

Tempting Uncle John Pancakes Use Up That Left-Over Turkey

The problem: "What to do with left over turkey?" The answer: "Turkey pancakes!" And your whole family will acclaim your inventive kitchen genius when this new, tempting dish appears on the post-holiday table.

You needn't reveal, either, that the recipe was originated by John Dahl, restaurateur who owns the unique "Uncle John's" Pancake Houses of Las Vegas, Santa Barbara and Palm Springs fame.

Serve these delicious taste treats with confidence, too, because they are consumed by thousands of pleased patrons of Uncle John's Pancake Houses each holiday season.

Use three pancakes per serving, roll up generous chunks of turkey in each baked pancake, flow your turkey gravy over the pancakes and top with whipped cranberry butter.

Turkey Pancakes
3 eggs.
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1-3 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon light brown sugar
1 tablespoon double-action baking powder.
1 cup buttermilk.
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

Beat eggs until fluffy and light in color. Add flour, salt, sugars and baking powder. Beat until mixture becomes almost smooth. Stir in buttermilk and melted butter. Continue to beat only long enough to make mixture smooth, velvety and free of lumps. Do not overbeat. Use about 2 tablespoons of batter for each pancake. Bake at 375 degrees or until golden brown. Makes 16 pancakes, 4-inch size.

Cranberry Butter
Make this in your own kitchen with an electric mixer and 1/2 pound of sweet butter. Butter should be removed from refrigerator and allowed to stand at room temperature for about one hour. While butter should not be too hard, it should not be too soft or you will not get a good whip. Place butter in mixer bowl and run mixer at lowest speed. As the large chunks of butter begin to smooth out, gradually raise the mixer speed to the fastest position. As the butter is whipping it will turn lighter in color and take on a fluffy appearance. Mixing time should be about 10 minutes. Before removing from the mixer, add 1-3 can of cranberry sauce (do not use the sauce containing whole cranberries) and mix for several minutes until butter is streaked throughout with the sauce. Whipped Cranberry Butter can be placed in a small bowl and covered with waxed paper ready for use. Unless the room is excessively hot, do not place the butter under refrigeration. Butter not used can be stored under refrigeration, but should be removed an hour or so before being used.

Canbys Among Villagers on Mexican Holiday

New Year's Eve in Mexico will be enjoyed by Villagers Frankie and Edward Canby. The Canbys left the day after Christmas to fly to Guadalajara where they stayed over night before going on to Mexico City to join the Roger Williams. Their plans are to spend New Years in Taxco where they will be joined by Williams' son, Roger, who attends school in Cornell and will fly down for the occasion.

Among other Villagers spending the holidays in Mexico are the Culver Nichols and their family.

Newton Home Gaily Decorated as Naomi Circle Holds Luncheon

Even the hand-painted Christmas trees on the china spoke the message of Christmas, when 32 members and guests of Naomi Circle of the Community Church enjoyed a salad-dessert luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Newton at 1355 Driftwood Drive.

Appropriately decorated inside and out with traditional Christmas wreaths, lights and holly, the spacious home had a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, bright poinsettias, glittering candles and other ornaments to enhance the beauty of the place and the joy of the occasion.

Instead of the customary exchange of gifts, members brought packages of food and money to fill a Christmas basket for a needy family. Mrs. John W. Williams and Mrs. F. F. Fulk had charge of this project.

The Reverend Donald Bachtell, assistant pastor of the Community Church led the group in devotions and gave a meditation on Mary, Mother of Jesus, encouraging the women to imitate Mary's piety, purity, humility, obedience and love. Mrs. Charles Henderson also spoke briefly on the importance of caring for needy families in the community.

Hostesses for the Christmas party were Mrs. Daniel Newton, Circle chairman, and Mesdames Con Maffie, F. F. Fulk, and W. H. Westby. Guests included Mmes. James H. Blackstone Jr., Henry Brooks of Brighton, Michigan, George Chandler, Charles Henderson, Frank Little and Mrs. Otto Wack who is here from E. anston, Illinois, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Maffie.

Holiday Party for Teen Ageds

Parties are not just for grown-ups at the Tennis Club. The teenagers will be very much a part of the holiday season with their own "Keen Teen" party set in the Club's Venetian room tomorrow night. They will have their own orchestra for dancing, a buffet supper and their very own cocktail bar for refreshments.

One young hostess is celebrating her birthday that evening and has invited a group of school friends to celebrate with her at the Keen Teen party. Hostess is Sue Hutchens, daughter of the C. C. Hutchens.

Her guests include: Misses Sue Rolapp, Marylee and Georgia Morris, Mimi Magee, Mary Lindenstein, Robbi Anderson, Bonnie Groshong, Jo-o Rosin, Carla Black, Marsha Franks, Maria Marmalejo, Diane Jennings, Mary Ann Roberts and their escorts.

Mrs. Grace Steenberg of 243 Avenida Ortega, who recently returned from several months touring Europe, was in Los Angeles over the weekend to attend the anniversary and annual Christmas party of her long time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Chaffee Earl II.

Your Car and the Law

SPECIAL LICENSE PLATES

We have in California 34 different kinds of license plates that may identify:

- 1—The vehicle.
- 2—The owner or driver.
- 3—The type of business or service in which the vehicle is used.

The most common, of course, is the three-letter, three-numeral plate that identifies the private passenger or pleasure car. There are 5,965,241 of these.

NEXT ARE TRUCK, or commercial plates, numbering 864,809, followed by trailers totaling 638,316, and motorcycles, of which there are 59,203.

These are the plates with which we are all familiar. Let's look at some that are not so well known, such as US S 1 and US S 2, with the U placed directly above the S.

These identify the autos of California's two United States Senators. There also are special plates for members of the United States House of Representatives, for example, which would be issued to the congressman from the 8th Congressional District.

THEN THERE ARE the plates issued to members of the State Legislature, A for Assembly and S for Senate, followed by numerals designating the member's legislative district; examples, A42 for the 42nd Assembly District and S1 for the 1st Senate District.

All legislative plates, for both federal and state legislators, are fully fee-paid issues. In other words, these legislators pay the same rate of registration and licensing fees as everyone.

But there are nine kinds of plates issued for fee-exempt vehicles. These are for vehicles operated by the Consular Corps (recognized representatives of foreign governments), public service institutions, the State of California, city, county and federal governments and quasi-political subdivisions (irrigation and bridge districts) and disabled veterans.

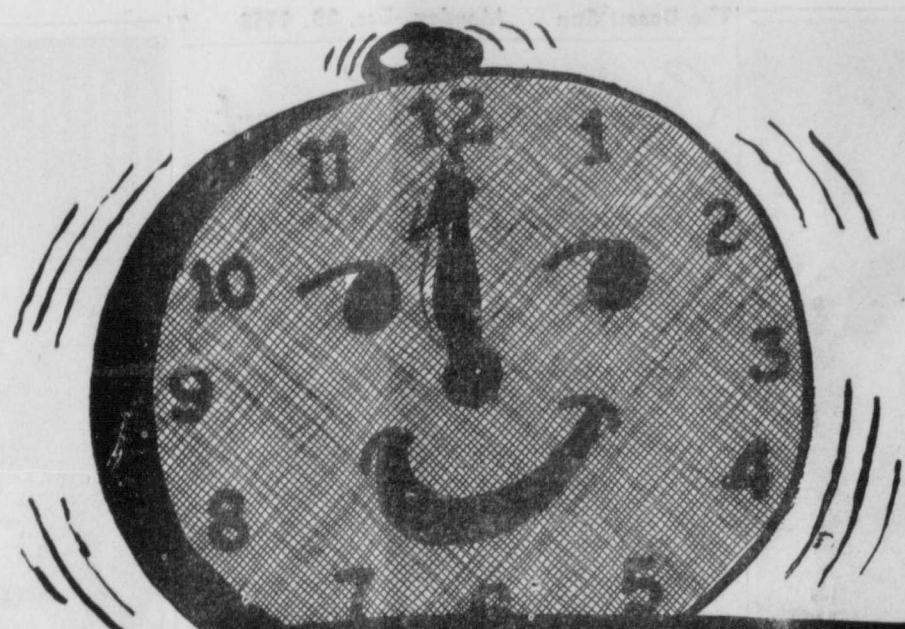

THE TOTAL number of vehicles of all kinds which are exempt from payment of fees is 97,000; 29,503 autos, 58,906 trucks, 7,091 trailers and 3,219 motorcycles.

The special, fee-exempt veterans plates (VET 123 and VTN 123, and so on) were provided by the State Legislators for disabled veterans and entitle them to parking privileges.

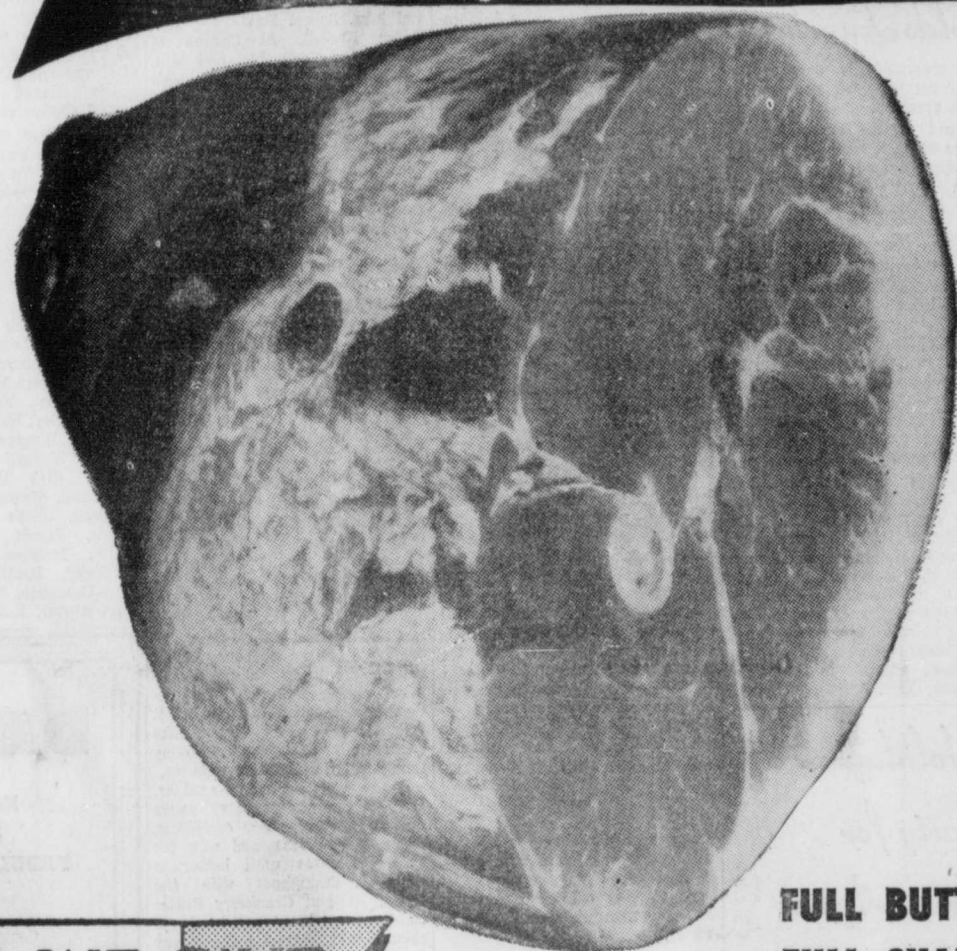

Some of other more interesting special plates are horseless carriage, "ham" radio and press photographer issues. "Horseless carriage" is spelled out on plates attached to qualified vehicles—those of 1922 or earlier vintage. The press photographer plate is identified by the letters PP enclosed in a triangle. The amateur radio operator's plate bears his call letters, such as "W6 BKK."

All three of these issues carry the full vehicle fees plus special charges—$1 each for press photographer and "ham" radio, and $2 for the horseless carriage plate.

Records to Be Broken At L.A. Trailer Life Show

Records will be broken all along the line when the sixth annual Trailer Life Show—the west's largest—opens for a 4-day public run Thursday, Jan. 29, at Los Angeles' Great Western Exhibit Center.

Some 225 mobile homes and travel trailers will be displayed. This is about 30 per cent greater in numbers than the 1958 show, in itself the largest ever held. Space-wise the demand ran 37 per cent ahead of 1958, due to the increased numbers of tenwides.

PUBLIC DAYS' hours are from noon to 11 p.m. The show continues through Sunday, Feb. 1.

Set among garden-life surroundings, the $1,300,000 all-industry showcase will present new body styles and floor plans, new elegant interiors and decor, tiled bathrooms, satiny wood paneling, gleaming work - and-time-saving kitchens, wall-to-wall carpeting and exquisite bedrooms in 1958 models.

New color combinations, streamlining and materials are also features of the latest models.

JACKS, HITCHES, awnings, cabanas, heaters, gas and electrical appliances and many other items will be fully displayed by suppliers, as will exhibitors offering services and finance facilities.

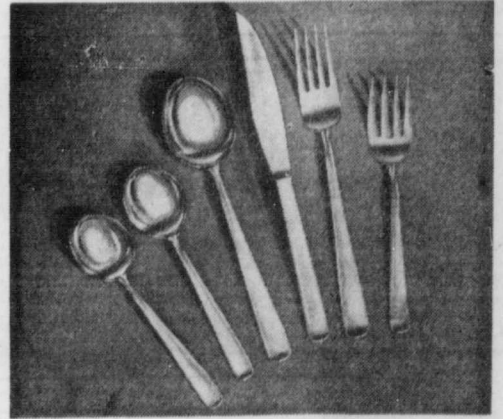

Daily stage shows will be presented during the four public days at 2 and 8 p.m., with extra shows at 4 Saturday and Sunday.

The huge exhibit area is located at 2120 South Eastern Avenue, just off the Santa Ana Freeway at Atlantic Boulevard turnoff. It is also very close to the junction of the Santa Ana and Long Beach Freeways.

Ample paved parking surrounds the area.

Colts Beat Giants In 'Sudden Death'

By Earl Wright
NEW YORK (UPI)—Johnny Unitas, a former six-dollar-a-game sand-lotter, won $10,000 today, an automobile and a permanent place in the hearts of Baltimore fans for leading the Colts to their first National League title on one leg.

Indians Win; Semi-Final Game Tonight

With victories over Needles and Hemet behind them, the surprising Palm Springs High School Indians move into the championship semi-finals of the Banning Block B Invitational Tournament tonight, taking on a potent San Diego team at 7 p.m. on the Banning floor.

Sharp-shooting Stan Cirata, who hit for 20 against Needles and for 18 more against Hemet Saturday night, is in "good shape," according to Braves Coach Jim Workman.

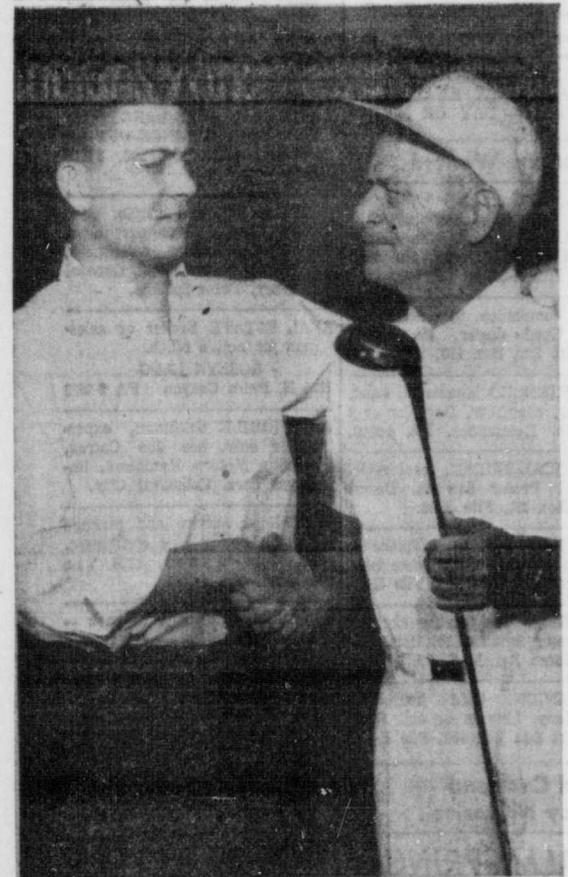

But the entire Villager team will have to be up and ready, Workman feels, to meet the one-two punch of the San Diego team. The team from down south utilizes tiny, 5-6 Jimmy Mitchell and skyscraping 6-3 Mike Shores in paralyzing opponents. Against Holtville on Saturday, Mitchell sank 12 points and Shores got 17. In another semi-final match, Banning, undefeated in nine tournament games, takes on the tourney favorite, Tustin. The Tustin five knocked off-favored Coachella Valley out of the competition 48-33 on Saturday. Banning won from arch-foe Beaumont, 48-25.

Line and box score on the Hemet victory:

Jordan Arrested On Dope Charge

VERNON, Calif. — (UPI) — Youthful Don Jordan, who became the welterweight champion of the world just 24 days ago, was free on $1,000 bail today after he and four other men were arrested on suspicion of possession of narcotics.

AFTER 30 YEARS of golfing, Dr. John M. Johnston finally scored a hole-in-one. Working with a foursome comprised of Ed Nelson, Harry DeVenny, R. C. Gast and himself, the Village's newest dentist dunked his shot at O'Donnell Golf Club here, en route to a sizzling 31 nine last week. The dentist, shown above receiving congratulations from his son, John Johnston Jr., fired a 36 on the second nine for an 18-hole total of 67, high caliber golf in any man's league. Dr. Johnston's new offices are on Luring Drive here.

EN ROUTE TO ONE of his two game winning goals in the final chukker at Eldorado yesterday is Jack Conant of Eldorado. Conant totaled three goals in aiding the Eldorado team to a wild, come-from-behind victory over a rugged La Jolla foursome.

SPORTS in the SUN

The Desert Sun Monday, Dec. 29, 1958 11

tarily when he boiled through and dumped Unitas for an eight-yard loss on the Baltimore 36. But Unitas fired 21 yards to Berry on the New York 43 and baited a trap for Modzelewski. When he fell for it and came barreling through on the next play he left a big hole and Ameche ran 23 yards to the 20.

UNITAS, WHO PLAYED sandlot football for $6 a game after he was released by the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1955, was hobbling on a right leg injured earlier in the game but his head was clear and he still was the gambling signal-caller who now makes more than $1,000 a game. Instead of playing conservative football and sticking to rushes, he fired to Berry on the eight. Then he bulletted one to Jim Mutscheller in the right corner on the one. Mutscheller and George Preas then opened a big hole at right tackle and Ameche rammed over to win the thriller.

Unitas set a record of 349 yards gained on passes in a title game, bettering the former mark of 335 set by Baugh of the Washington Redskins against the Chicago Bears in the 1937 championship contest. Unitas' tosses to Berry, Lenny Moore and Mutscheller helped the Colts set a title game record of 17 first downs on passes and a championship game mark of 27 first downs.

UNITAS AND EACH of the other Colts collected victors' shares of $4,718.77 from the game. This cut, plus the bonuses from the award system set up by Coach Weeb Ewbank and Colts President Carroll D. Rosenbloom, and the wages from the All-Star game next August, made Sunday's triumph worth approximately $10,000 to each of the Baltimore players. Unitas also received an auto for being selected the game's most valuable player.

The overtime, which ended at 6:15, was almost an anti-climax for the thrill-deadened spectators.

15 HANDICAPPERS NET $3,265 ON CALIENTE'S 5-10

AGUA CALIENTE (UPI) — Fifteen bettors each won $3,265 Sunday by picking perfect cards in the 5-10 handicapping contest at Agua Caliente race track.

Another 265 persons were tied for second with five out of six winners and each collected $61. It was one of the widest distributions in the history of 5-10 handicapping wagering here.

Thirteen Stars won the featured event by a length after being last in the first part of the race. He paid $6.80, $4.20 and $3.00.

Apprentice jockey Raymond Ray, 25, Decatur, Ill., rode four winners Saturday to boost his total to 80 and break an all-time seasonal mark.

Eldorado Wins Over La Jolla In Last Chukker

Jack Conant slapped the puck into La Jolla goal twice in the sixth chukker yesterday to give Eldorado Polo Club a thrilling, last-ditch victory over the visitors, 9-8.

Conant's final period effort — part of a three-goal total for the Eldorado rider — capped a sensational game that had the sparse crowd on its feet most of the time from the second chukker.

ALAN SCHERER split the Eldorado goal twice in the first period to give La Jolla a 2-0 lead, but Eldorado's Bob Smith came back with two of his own in the second frame to even things up. Smith made his third goal of the day in the third chukker and Peter Hitchcock also scored to give the locals a 4-2 edge.

Successive goals by Todd Helser and Blaine Stephenson, two each, gave the visitors an edge which, coupled with a one-goal handicap, seemed about to make a rout of the match.

BUT PETER HITCHCOCK and Conant each sank one in the fifth chukker and set the stage for Conant's sixth chukker deluge. Scherer scored one for La Jolla in the sixth to keep things evened up. Opposition for the Eldorado team next Sunday is expected to be announced tomorrow.

Score by chukkers:
LA JOLLA (0) 2 0 2 2 1-8
ELDORADO 0 2 2 1 2 2-8

Bowl Games Show Rams, Lions to Gain Top Men

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

The Los Angeles Rams and Detroit Lions of the National Football League appear today to have been the biggest winners in Saturday's post-season college football bowl extravaganzas.

The Rams, who finished in a tie for second place behind the world champion Baltimore Colts in the Western Division, may have found the additional passing strength they need in Buddy Humphrey who fired five touchdown passes in the South's 49-20 victory over the North at Miami, Fla.

AND THE LIONS, who won only 4 of 12 games and finished fifth in the same division, were encouraged that they may have the runner they need in Nick Pietrosante who led the East to a 26-14 win over the West in the annual Shrine Game at San Francisco.

Humphrey, 22-year-old ex-Baylor star, completed 14 of 19 passes for 232 yards while Pietrosante, 215-pound ex-Notre Dame fullback, banged out 95 yards in 20 tries for a 4.7 average. Each, of course, was selected as the most valuable player in his game.

IN THE OTHER Saturday games which kicked off the week-long bowl spectaculars, Mississippi beat Florida in the Gator Army's All-America halfback Pete Dawkins.

Humphrey, the nation's leading college passer, and the Rams' third draft pick, threw three touchdown passes to Mississippi State's Billy Stacy who also scored a fourth touchdown on a one-yard plunge. The South led, 28-14, at halftime and 42-14 after the third period as a crowd of 35,519 saw the Rebels' huddle score on two three-yard plunges.

Cooper Bests MacKay in Davis Cup Singles Challenge

BRISBANE, Australia — (UPI) — The United States split the opening singles matches of the Davis Cup challenge round with Australia today but appeared to have lost the daring gamble on which non-playing captain Perry Jones had pinned his hopes for final victory.

Alex Olmedo, Los Angeles, gave the U.S. its first opening match victory in a challenge round since 1954 when he beat Mal Anderson, 8-6, 2-6, 9-7, 8-6.

But then Ashley Cooper, generally considered the No. 1 amateur tennis player in the world, ruined Jones' gamble when he beat 22-year-old Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, in the second match to square the best-of-five series at one victory each. MacKay's defeat was a bitter pill for the 70-year-old Jones, captain for his first U.S. Davis Cup team, because the 6-foot, 3-inch power player had been picked for the singles match over Hamilton Richardson, Arlington, Va., the No. 1 U.S. amateur player.

Council Considers Sewer Line Connection by Hotel

Even though some repair is now necessary on the new sewer line on North Palm Canyon Drive, and new pictures must be taken on the inside of the line, the City Council this week contemplated the allowing of connection to the line by a new hotel which is expected to open the first of the year.

The council has accepted a report of the special sewer committee which used the Pomeroy report as the basis of its action.

UNDER A RESOLUTION passed last week by the council, the city required that the contractor clean the bentonite out of the upper four sections of the line, and then have the sections re-photographed to determine any defects.

The resolution also required the contractor to repair improper joints on branch pipes out of two manholes; to rephotograph a section of line which did not come out in the first pictures and have the contractor make any repairs that might be indicated by the new photos; increase the width to 10 inches in one of the u-channels; and establishment of a bond for root repair work that might take place within the next ten years.

THE POMEROY report pointed out that nothing can be done to make joints tight where leakage tests indicate they are not tight, and the cost has been estimated at about $3,000.

Members of the council were disturbed after reading the Pomeroy report which stated that "the top four sections of line contains a coating of bentonite," after its special consultant engineer, Marion Crist reported to the council that it "had all been removed."

The recommendation from Crist to the council to accept the line "was in poor taste and should have awaited the outcome of the photographing of the line," the report stated.

Some Councilmen have indicated that the failure of the engineers to know the condition of the line from the inspections during its construction, may result in the holding of a personnel meeting by the governing body.

Hendricks Rites To Be Held This Week in Texas

Funeral services will be held in Longview Texas, this week for Villager Weldon Hendricks, 35, who died of a heart attack at the home of a friend in Banning Friday.

Hendricks, of 682 Beach Road, and his wife, Mary Lou, had been visiting at the home of the Eugene Browns when he was stricken. He died a few minutes later after a fire department resuscitator squad failed to revive him.

Officials at Wiefels and Son Mortuary here said the body will be sent to Longview tonight. Funeral services will be conducted there later this week.

FUNDS ARE NOW BEING collected to continue the display of Christmas lights over the main street of Cathedral City next year. The Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce each year holds a drive for funds to put up decorations the following Christmas. After a door to door canvass of local business houses, others are asked to mail their contributions to the Chamber, P. O. Box D, Cathedral City. The contract for the lights is signed early in September and the funds must be collected in advance. (Wilson D. Ellis Photo)

THOUSAND PALMS

By IZETTA HUNT

An historical event took place at the corner in Thousand Palms this week when an automatic system turned on lights to illuminate the palm trees at the corner of Ramon Road and "Old 99." This is one of the many projects of our Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bourne, residents of Monte Vista Way, spent Christmas Day with their daughter and family, the M. O. Mahstroms, in Fullerton.

Mrs. Hazel Pries spent Christmas with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Long, in Alhambra.

Mrs. Pries is accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thomas motored into Long Beach for the Christmas holiday, to be with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Sloper were Long Beach visitors Christmas Day at the home of Mrs. Sloper's sister and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Aukeners of Long Beach, visited with Mrs. Elinor Smith, Tuesday afternoon on their way to spend Christmas at El Centro.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Orcharde returned Tuesday to spend Christmas at their Hidden Springs residence, after a few weeks in San Diego.

Mrs. Hewish, from Vancouver, Wash., is coming down to spend the month of January with her daughter, Mrs. L. Orchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wallace motored to San Jose recently to visit his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Thornborough are spending the holiday season at their residence in the San Jacinto Dunes.

Miss Joan Wallace came home Saturday to spend the Christmas season at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey D. Wallace. She is teaching in Arlington.

Santa Claus got a warm welcome at the Thousand Palms Community Chapel Friday evening, when the children of the community gave a program for their parents and friends. Santa gave every child present a stocking full of candy and nuts.

Poll of Legislature Reveals Most Anticipate New or Higher Taxes

(Editor's Note: First of four dispatches on results of a United Press International poll of members of the Legislature).

By JAMES C. ANDERSON
United Press International
SACRAMENTO, (UPI) — Most California legislators agreed today it probably will be necessary to vote new or higher state taxes next year.

Faced with a deficit that may amount to as much as 250 million dollars, a majority of members of the Assembly and Senate feel a tax increase is unavoidable.

A UNITED PRESS International poll of the 120 members, made a few days before the crucial 1959 session convenes Jan. 5, indicated a new tax on tobacco is a distinct possibility. Increases also may be voted in liquor, beer, horse racing, personal income and bank corporation and franchise tax.

The UPI poll posed 50 questions to the lawmakers. On only one was there 100 per cent unanimous agreement. That was "do you see any chance of a major tax reduction?"

NOT A SINGLE one of the 70-odd legislators who replied to the questionnaire gave a "yes" answer to the question.

"Are you dreaming, Jim?" was the response of Sen. Hugh Burns, Senate president pro tempore.

By a ratio of better than 6-to-1, the lawmakers said they feel it will be necessary to levy new or higher taxes in 1959. By an almost identical ratio, they said they will vote for a tobacco tax and indicated a 3-cent levy on each pack of cigarettes as the probable amount.

ASSEMBLYMAN DON A. Allen Sr. (D-Los Angeles) summed up the legislators' feelings about what will be the most important issue in the session by saying:

"Taxes, taxes, taxes!" Allen said he feels the state should vote a 6-cent cigaret tax and split the proceeds with the state keeping 4 cents, cities getting a penny and counties a penny of the new revenue.

The legislators were asked if they favored taking the 150 million dollar tidelands oil royalties fund and using it to help offset the expected deficit. This question provoked an almost even division of opinion with the dissenters saying the tidelands money should be spent for water development and not dissipated by paying day-to-day cost of government.

BY A 3-TO-1 VOTE, the legislators said they opposed any effort to lower or repeal the property tax exemption now granted war veterans. However, Assemblyman Harold L. Levering (R-Los Angeles) said he thought the exemption should be limited to a fixed period of time after which "veterans would cease to be veterans and become citizens and pay taxes along with the rest of the citizens."

A final question the UPI asked in the field of taxation and revenue was whether the lawmakers would favor legalized gambling or a state lottery as a means of generating new revenue.

Only 10 of the 70 legislators who answered the poll said they would vote for such a proposal.

FONDUE NEUCHÂTEL

New Year's Eve will be here soon and here is a dish that is easy to prepare and is very popular in Europe at this time of year. It is natural for New Year's Eve.

To serve four people use the following: 1/2 pound of grated Swiss cheese, imported is best. One tablespoon of flour. One cut clove of garlic. One cup of dry wine, Chablis or a dry sauterne. Salt, white pepper, nutmeg. Three tablespoons of Kirsch. One-inch cubes of sour dough French bread.

Dredge the grated cheese thoroughly with the flour. Rub a casserole or saucepan with the garlic. Add a cup of wine and bring almost to a boil. Add the grated cheese and stir constantly with a fork until melted. Add salt, pepper and nutmeg to taste.

When the Fondue starts to boil add the Kirsch. Serve quickly, bringing it hot to the table and keep it hot over an alcohol lamp, electric plate or chafing dish. Pass a basket full of bread cubes. Instruct the guests to each take a fork and spear each cube and in turn dip into the bowl of Fondue and eat while real hot . . . If it cools it will get rubbery.

This is a very informal dish and fun to serve and to a cheese lover it's the tops.

All the ingredients for the Fondue are available at Sale's Markets.

Try this dish and start the New Year right!

Every Window of Every Cadillac is Safety Plate Glass

New Incentive for Forty Million Dreamers!

If you could look into the dreams of America's motorists—you would behold more than forty million beautiful Cadillac cars.

That, at least, is the number of people who—according to authoritative estimates—hope someday to own and drive the "car of cars".

And what a thrilling incentive Cadillac has placed before them during 1959!

There's new temptation in its every graceful line. From the jewel-like brilliance of its new grille to the sweep of its new rear fenders, it is a symphony of line and contour.

Cadillac's luxurious new Fleetwood interiors are an eloquent invitation to ownership all in themselves. Beautiful, spacious and perfectly appointed, they are as enchanting to behold as they are delightful to ride in.

And yet, it is on the highway that Cadillac's winning ways are at their brilliant best. The car rides with an incredible smoothness and steadiness and quietness . . . and handling ease is so marvelous that even parking now becomes downright pleasure!

So if you count yourself among the forty million who have lost their hearts to Cadillac—this is the year to say "yes" to your dreams.

From a standpoint of beauty, or luxury, of comfort, or performance or value—this is simply Cadillac's finest!

We suggest you visit your dealer soon—take the wheel for yourself—and learn the story of each of Cadillac's thirteen new models.

We know you will find a personal appraisal and demonstration to be a rewarding experience.
